SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 18.

sporting world was the boat race yes-terday on the Thames, between the crews of the Harvard and Oxford Universities. It was, however, something more than a sporting event, for two nationalities being represented in the contest, national pride and rivairy entered largely into it. The Harvard ocean; but by so small a margin that their defeat, under all the circumstances, is nearly as creditable as success. The ocean telegraph tells the story of the day in our columns this morning. The Harvard boys bore themselves galiantly throughout. They have sustained the credit of American muscle and pluck, and have won the respect of the English public. The Oxford Crew is a very fine one. It has beaten we believe, but henceforth the English sporting gentry will have a better appreciation of American skill and muscle than heretofore; for despite all that has been said about the Harvards rowing in an English boat and adopting English practices they did neither, except that they were obliged to take a coxswain. They were also obliged to accept the difficult course at Putney, with which they were unacquainted, and to yield to an earlier day than they wished for the race; so that in in order to bring themselves into proper too severe training into a short time, entitled "Speak no Ill." The fact that one of the crew went into miles and a quarter. But of course they "can't do it sgain;" and this will probably lead to a return race, to be rowed in American waters.

We shall in a few days, however, have another competitive trial with our English cousins, this time on that "ware" which Brittania boasts of ruling. On the lat of the next month the American vacht Danntiess will esti from Cowes for New York against the English yacht Cambria, the former having given the challenge: so that if we cannot win on the Thames, possibly we may on the Atlantic.

The Gazette is slightly in error when it says Mr. Carlile is "always" with the winning party. We believe he was not with the winning party in the matter of the Stockholm mission. But we presume the Gazette is correct in what It says of Mr. Carille's views respecting political restrictions. If so, does it not strengthen our conjecture that Senator Boreman really holds similar views? The remarkable affection that subsists between these eminent gentlemen could scarcely be so ardent if they differed on this vital question,

ALL the steam fire engines of Philadelphis have been called in requisition to pump water into the Fairmount reservoir. Two of them are on duty at a time, and their united efforts throw over 1,000,000 into the reservoir in twenty-four hours. There is water enough it seems in the river, but it has for every one made practically available. Plans are maturing for the construction of permanent steam pumps, so as to prevent a recurrence of the Harvard and Oxford orews as they alarming dearth of water under which stood Thursday: Harvards—Fay, bow, the greater part of the city is now labor-

NO 1 HANGING BOOK FOUNDRY Genry is to address several meetings in the Northern part of the State.

From the New York Tribune.

The proposition of the last Congrethet no native or naturalised citizen the United States shall henceforth be deprived by any States the Country of the United States shall benceforth be deprived by any State of the right of Sunfrage because of his race or color, is emphatically a measure of pacification, it is a practical tondession of the force, or at least the plausibility, or a sharp Southern criticism on the Republican National Platform on which General Grant was nominated—that the North proposed to impose Negro Suffrage on the South, but rejected it for herself. It is a correction of existing anomalies utterly incompatible with genuine republicanism. And it will put an end to to a senseless, fruitless, irritating, irritating, publicanism. And it will put an end to to a senseless, fruitless, irritating, damaging controversy, and enabls our eople to give paramount if not undireopie to give paramount if not undi-vided sitemiton to great questions of fiscal and industrial progress which imperatively demand undistracted and thorough consideration. There is not a county in the Union which would not be enriched, hardly a farm, forest or water-power, that would not have its value increased, by a speedy ratifi-cation of the pending XVth Amend-ment.

It is announced from Washington that the records of the State Depart-ment show that this Amendment has been Completely Ratified by—North Caro-lina, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Maine, Louisians, Michi-gan, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Connecticut, Fiorida—12. Imperfectly Ratified by-Missouri,

This list is grossly incomplete. New York has ratified, though our Damocratic State officers may have withheld the evidence of this fact from the State Department. New Hampshire, Nevada, Indians, have certainly ratified; and we supposed that Minnesots, Iows, Illinois, Nebrasks, and Alsbama had done likewise. Vermont will ratify soon after her Legislature meets next October; and Rhode Island, we are assured, will do likewise in November.

But these, with the stroves in Missouri But these, with the errors in Missouri

But these, with the arrors in Missouri and Kansas corrected, will but swell the list of ratifying States to 25, and four more are needed. These might have been virtually secured by this time. Had theovertures of the Walker party in Virginis, and of the Corresponding organizations in Mississippi and Texas, been met with frank and prompt cordinity—had early elections been held in each of these States, and their Legislatures been promptly contheir Legislatures been promptly their Legislatures been promptly convened—we might have secured a ratifi-cation from each, without serious op-position, by the 1st of September. And, with such ratification assured, the end would have been in plain sight, In lact, had the Legislature of Virginia been promptly assembled, no test-oath imposed, and the XVIr Amendment ratified by her "Conservative" leaders, crew were besten, in accordance with ratified by her 'Oonservative' leaders, general expectation on both sides of the the struggle would have been virtually closed. I he Democratic canvass in Ohio, California, &c., would have been para-lyzed, and the wretched babble con-1920, and the witched babble con-cerning integers, nigger equality, &c., consigned, to the dusty lumber-room wherein is garnered the outworn para-phernalia of dead controversies. It is a grave mistake that this has not been done; but the error is not yet faul. The postponement of the Masissippi and Texas elections to the last of No-vember units, we suinces be appret-

Rew Kind of Hailroad. The latest noveity in railroading, the practicability of which has been thoroughly demonstrated in France, is that of a single rail railway. The novel fea-ture of the invention consists of a single rail, like a long ribbon, extending along one side of the road. One wheel placed at the forward part alone bears on this rail, while the other two wheels reat on the ground. The oars are furnished with two wheels, placed underneath in their long axis, which rest on the rail and support their weight, while two other wheels, deathed to preserve their evenibling and their weight will be two other wheels, destined to preserve their evenibling are placed outside. two other wheels, destined to preserve their equilibrium, are placed outside two other wheels, destined to preserve their equilibrium, are placed outside. The experiment with a Hillputian locomotive, drawing a series of cars carrying sixteen persons each, is thus described: The track was about four miles long. While the train was running at a speed of ten miles an hour, it reached a grade of 410 feet to a mile, which it secended without an apparent alacking of the speed. The first result was conclusive in favor of the system proposed, as it showed, beyond a doubt, the possibility of overcoming the difficulties inherent to the ascent of extraordinary steep grades. A portion of the road presents a series of very short curves of a radius of only sixty-five feet; these the train followed with mary slous smoothness and regularity. On the return trip the brakes were so perfectly adjusted that the velocity on the rapid descents was kept constant at all times. For local purposes the system

T. H. LOGAN, Ed.—Dear Sr.—I wrole to you some time since for a bottle of Brottlinger's Field Extract of Barasparilla and Dandellon, and must say that it has acted upon me like a charm. I have been afficied for the street of the street with Dyspepala; two-thrits of the time I vomited from one to three times a day. I had given up the blee of ever getting well again. Added to this, I suffered with the Serofula very much. Since last September one side of my seek was one entire sore, composed of some seven running sores. The use of one bottle has much improved me. My stomach is relieved and my neck has improved beyond his relieved and my neck has improved beyond my most sanguine expectations. I feel much encouraged, and think by the use of one or two bottles and think by the selection of the boat,
